In the final count of points, Innisfail won the cup, with 95 points, while Crossfield had 88, Bowden 81, Didsbury 80, Olds 61, Carstairs 49. The above figures include a bonus of 25 points, which was given to Bowden, Carstairs and Crossfield on account of small enrolments.

While Didsbury are fourth in the standing, they stood second in points earned.

Farms and Farm Mortgages

In these days when so much is heard of the burden of mortgage indebtedness carried by the farmers of the Dominion, and more especially of Western Canada, the official figures contained in the bulletin recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa, and which are based on information compiled in the census taking of last year, are of more than passing interest. Furthermore, they are important and encouraging in that they dissipate the prevailing impression that, with but few exceptions, the farms of Western Canada are under heavy mortgage. The fact is that two out of every three farms in Canada have no mortgage debt, and while the number of mortgaged farms is naturally higher in a more recently settled country like the three prairie provinces, even in these provinces less than one-half of the farms are mortgaged. This is quite different from the oft-repeated assertions that 80 to 90 per cent. of all Western farms are mortgaged.

This census bulletin is replete with interesting and valuable information, but space will permit mention of only a few of the highlights of the report. Of the 728,664 farms in Canada in 1931, full owners of farms numbered 580,299, part owners and part tenants 67,942, and tenants only 74,382, with 41 unclassified in the Yukon.

While the number of "full owners" decreased by 28,842 in the ten years elapsing since 1921, the number of part owners and part tenants increased by 27,973 and tenants only by 18,437. In the three prairie provinces fully owned farms comprise 77,064,201 acres, and rented farms 32,718,401 acres. Of the partly owned and partly rented farms in these three provinces, 16,078,801 acres are owned and 15,773,536 acres rented.

The average size of all farms in Canada is 224.48 acres, the average size in Ontario being 128.46 acres, in Quebec 157.21 acres, and in the West the average is much larger, it being 270.19 acres in Manitoba, 400.15 acres in Alberta, and 407.95 acres in Saskatchewan.

The value of land in farms in Canada is stated to be $2,704,760,300. Saskatchewan ranking first with $781,324,800, Ontario second with $577,437,900, Alberta third with $525,272,800, Quebec fourth with $422,100,400, and Manitoba fifth with $290,270,300.

The value of buildings on farms in Canada totals $1,241,403,600, Ontario coming first with $487,092,500, Quebec second with $250,178,200, Saskatchewan third with $223,944,900, Alberta fourth with $137,333,900, and Manitoba fifth with $88,389,200.

Combining land and buildings values, Ontario is first, Saskatchewan second, Quebec third, Alberta fourth, and Manitoba fifth.

Coming back to the subject mentioned in the opening paragraph of this article, "Mortgages," it is to be noted that at the census of 1931 every farm owner in Canada was asked, for the first time, to state the total mortgage on his farm. The mortgage debt reported under this inquiry included not only the debt secured by an instrument called a "mortgage" but also debts protected by deeds of trust, judgments, or by other legal instrument that partakes of the nature of a mortgage and which has the same legal effect. The answer to this question did not include debts covered by crop liens, nor debts secured by liens on implements, machinery or live stock. Nor did the inquiry apply to debts on parts or farms rented.

The tabulated results show that 244,291 farms out of the total of 728,664 farms in Canada, or 33½ per cent. were mortgaged to the aggregate amount of $677,564,100, or 16½ per cent. of the value of all farms, and approximately 50 per cent. of the value of owned farms to which the inquiry was restricted.

Out of a total of 192,174 farms in Ontario, 71,694 reported mortgages amounting in all to $201,751,900, or 27.20 per cent. of the total. The average mortgage in Ontario was $2,818, and the ratio of mortgage to the value of all farms 18.95 per cent. The figures for Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are considerably lower.

Contrasting Ontario with the three prairie provinces we find: Manitoba—54,199 farms; 18,949, or 34.96 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $60,070,100; average mortgage $3,170; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 28.81 per cent. Saskatchewan—136,472 farms; 56,567, or 41.46 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $177,620,800; average mortgage $3,129; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 17.67 per cent.

Alberta—97,408 farms; 34,305, or 35.22 per cent. of the total, reporting mortgages amounting to $108,163,700; average mortgage $3,162; ratio of mortgage to value of farms 16.37 per cent.

It will be seen, therefore, that in these newer provinces the percentage of farms mortgaged is much higher than in old settled Ontario; that the average mortgage is not much larger; and that the ratio of mortgages to the value of the farms is lower in Alberta and Saskatchewan and only slightly higher in the case of Manitoba—a truly remarkable showing for this newer country, much of it still in the pioneering stage of development, and a showing that should be of encouragement for the future.

Troubled With Her Children
Having Summer Complaint

Mrs. L. E. Montgomery, Ave. K. South, Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—I am the mother of two children and have a great deal of trouble with them having summer complaint, in fact, several times every summer they were subject to attacks.
"I have found Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry to be the most effective remedy and keep it always handy and give it immediately on the first sign of any bowel complaint."
"Thanks to 'Dr. Fowler's' I no longer dread the summer months."

The Latest Invention

Mail Carrier Demonstrates Wireless Telephone Without Any Tubes

What is believed to be the first wireless telephone communication without tubes in transmission and reception was accomplished recently when Walter Bee, proprietor of a roadside restaurant along the Lackawanna Trail, demonstrated his invention to a group of witnesses.

Beas talked over his home-made tubeless and wireless telephone for 20 minutes over a distance of more than 100 feet. A head-set and mouth-piece was set in one building and a similar apparatus in another some distance away. Beas' set was operated on a six-volt battery, and practically all the parts were made by the inventor, who has been experimenting for some time.

Beas, who was formerly a mail carrier at Doylestown, Pennsylvania, said that the time is near when wireless, tubeless telephone systems can be installed, with a central exchange operated in the same manner as at the present time. Development and establishment of this science will save an enormous operating cost, he believes.

Beas also declared that he could show science the cause of the fluctuation of the magnetic needle as a result of sensitive experiments, which he says were successfully terminated on March 9, this year, leading to the wireless and tubeless telephone.

A Big Undertaking

Factory Moved With No Loss Of Working Time

A complete engineering factory has been removed from London to Chippenham, 94 miles away, without the loss of a single working hour.

At the end of every working day for three weeks a number of the machines were dismantled and removed to the new factory. They were immediately installed and were ready for work again the following morning.

Every employee, with his family and household effects, moved to Chippenham, during the time that the particular piece of machinery which it was his work to tend was being removed. This he finished work in London in the evening and started work at Chippenham the following morning.

Altogether, 750 tons of machinery, the furniture of 36 families, and more than 100 people were moved.

Help For Asthma. Neglect gives asthma a great advantage. The trouble, once it has secured a foothold, extends its grip on the bronchial passages tenaciously. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is daily benefiting cases of asthma of long standing. Years of suffering, however, might have been prevented had the remedy been used when the trouble was in its first stages. Do not neglect asthma, but use this preparation at once.

Children's Roll Of Honor

Many Names On Record In County Hall, London, England

In one of the corridors of the County Hall, London, England, on a Roll of Honor, there are the names of nearly 400 school children who have received Royal Humane Society awards for saving, or attempting to save, persons from drowning at great risk to themselves. This Roll is one of the most cherished possessions of the London Schools Swimming Association, which for 40 years has been doing splendid work among children. The ages of the brave children range from ten to 14 years.

Canada's Wood Pulp Exports

The total quantity of wood-pulp exported from Canada in 1929 according to the figures lately issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in cooperation with the forest service department of the interior, was 750,229 tons, valued at $20,668,578. The average value was that $34.28 per ton.

Increase In Indian Population

More Indians In Canada Now Than Ever Before

Department of Indian Affairs officials expressed the opinion there are more Indians in Canada now than when the first white man landed in this country. The 1931 census of the Dominion gives the total number of red men as 122,920, compared with the last department census total of 108,012.

United States has an Indian population of 332,297 according to the 1930 census. Canada's population is divided:

Ontario, 3,368; British Columbia, 24,599; Manitoba, 15,417; Saskatchewan, 15,208; Alberta, 15,258; Quebec, 12,312; North West Territories, 1,046; Nova Scotia, 2,191; New Brunswick, 1,635; Yukon, 1,543; Prince Edward Island, 233.

Diet Requires Fats

Fats Constitute a Protection Against Tuberculosis

A notable fact is that diet plays a most important part in combating tuberculosis. After the German occupation of Warsaw there was an alarming increase in tuberculosis, because the Germans removed as much fat of all kinds as they could with which to make high explosives. When the people of a country were able to return to a diet containing sufficient fat, the tuberculosis declined rapidly. It is generally accepted that a diet rich in fats constitutes a definite protection against tuberculosis. Efforts made to reduce diet in factories are also cited as a contributory cause of the decline, as well as sanitation, water supply, and personal hygiene—Montreal Star.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powders is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

Monaco Faces Bankruptcy

Financial Position Of World's Smallest Municipality Is Serious

Monaco, the world's smallest principality, in which is located Monte Carlo, famous gambling center, has found hard hit by the world depression, and the consequent unemployment is causing grave alarm. M. Bouillon Lafont, vice-president of the French Chamber of Deputies, has been made minister of state for Monaco. Prince Louis himself has been conferring with the French ministry and from this it is expected that he regards the financial affairs of his country as serious. As a matter of fact, the principality is threatened with bankruptcy.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Rush Seems To Be Over

People Are No More Crowding Into United States

Apparently the rush to America as a land of opportunity for people of all races has come to an end. Free land which is still available is not worth cultivating. Jobs are at a premium here as they are in every other part of the world. The American economic system has arrived at a period of maturity when phenomenal growth can no longer be expected. The waste places have filled up, and industry has grown to a point considerably beyond consumption needs. Henceforth the economic development of the United States should be slower and more steady—Washington, D.C., Post.

Where Aurora Is Clearest

Returning from his cosmic ray expedition along the northwest shore of Hudson Bay, Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Chicago scientist, was in Winnipeg on his way to his home in Michigan. The point of greatest intensity of "cosmic ray light" is directly about Churchill, he claims. It was there he was at the time the light was seen. The light, he says, is seen only by looking directly south.

IN TEARS WITH PAIN OF RHEUMATISM

"For six weeks," a woman writes, "I had rheumatism, mostly in my feet and wrists. In fact, I have been in tears with the pain. Owing to the fact that I am not used to the kind of medicine, as it made me feel sick. So a lady said I should try Kruschen Salts. I am very thankful that I did so, for now I feel completely restored. I have not been taking anything else, so it must be Kruschen that has relieved me."—Mrs. C.

The six mineral salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is the recognized cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper working order, and so prevent constipation, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid, and other body poisons which undermine the health.

Women Loggers Work

At Vancouver Inlet

Are Making Good And Not Avoiding Tough Spots

Logging has always been classed as work for men, and has attracted bravest men at that. But over at Deep Cove, across the Inlet from Vancouver, husky young women are engaged in this industry. And they aren't avoiding the tough spots either.

One woman recently exhibited five kinds of shingle belt which represented her work for the week. "It's hard work all right," she admitted, "but it gets easier as you go along. At first it was heart-breaking and I felt that my back would snap in two, but my muscles are pretty hard now. It's healthy, and I don't mind working here in the woods than somewhere down in the stuffy city."

The women loggers aren't all burly specimens of their sex. One woman is the mother of three children. She is only about five feet tall, and if there are muscles in her arms they are well concealed. But with the aid of a patient horse she managed to handle a prodigious amount of fallen timber during a day.

Abbott of Oregon called for McTyre to serve a prison term.

1932 Revenue Rise.

John Dufee, when speaking at the National Exhibition, said: "We squeezed through the previous depression because most of the people were on the farms. The farmer can get by. He has his house, he can dig his own food, and he has a job. Under present conditions he can declare a moratorium, and that is very much what he has done."

When the farmer in this province suffers, everyone suffers. Hence he squeezes through, he carries a great train of others with him. He is at the head of the procession. He sets the pace, and in some respects is better off than those dependent on him. At any rate his actual existence is more secure than that of many in other lines of work.

It is cheering to know that in 1932 he will "squeeze through" with a higher revenue from farm products than in 1931. Last year the value of all agricultural commodities was given as 147 million. This year's estimate is 153 million. This makes no allowance for any price improvements, although it probably has made no allowance for any serious wheat decline.

Marketing records show that the total sum realized to date this year on beef, sheep and hogs is 65 per cent of the 1931 figure. On this basis, without anticipating any improvement in beef or hog prices, will bring the farm animal production to 16 million.

Despite discouraging prices of dairy products, it is found that this industry will be worth 12 million to the province, not reckoning any advance in price.

Poultry and poultry products will bring at least 8 million.

To these figures is added the main asset, the wheat crop, estimated as $116,000,000, together with all other field crops. The fluctuating price of wheat renders the wheat estimate less reliable than any other, but it seems incredible that this product should decline further.

If figures carry any security, these would indicate that the province is developing the art of "squeezing through" to a fine point. Relatively it is better off, both individually and as a whole, than the other western provinces. —Vulcan Advocate.

Winter Feeding of Stock.

Southern Ranchers Will Soon Be Placing Stock For Winter Feeding

Until recently the ranchers and farmers in Alberta had little in common. Both groups, it is true, have been the victims or beneficiaries of climatic vagaries, but in a strictly business sense their paths have seldom crossed.

The undertaking of a joint enterprise by representatives of these two branches is therefore a milestone in our agricultural development, and since the enterprise has proved itself the milestone may well become a significant one.

We refer to the plan worked out three years ago in the Lethbridge vicinity and conducted successfully there each year since and last fall for the first time in the Lacaniche

San Francisco was en fete recently when the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain arrived there from Honolulu for a two day stay on her 128-day winter cruise of world ports. About 80 additional passengers joined the ship at San Francisco and another fifty at Los Angeles for the last lap of her voyage through the Panama Canal to New York.

"The Mineral Position of the British Empire" is the suggestive title of a paper by Dr. Charles Campbell, Deputy Minister of Mines, which will be the leading topic for discussion at the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, in Montreal on April 5, 6, and 7. This same topic will provoke much discussion at the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference.

Relief that economic conditions were gradually improving and that the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa would be one of the big historical events in the development of the Dominion, was expressed by Senator Gibson Robertson, former Minister of Labor, who sailed on S.S. Montcalm from Halifax recently as Canada's chief delegate to the 16th annual conference of the International Labor organization at Geneva.

area, where feeder cattle for fattening were placed on farms by ranchers. In both localities the farmers took the cattle without payment and at the time the animals were sold they received a sum initially agreed upon for each pound of gain. Their feeding operations were subject to supervision by representatives of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, and before they received their feeder cattle they were required to satisfy these representatives and the supplying ranchers in the matters of accommodation, availability of feed-stuffs and on other points.

Alberta has always been recognized as a superior producer of range cattle, but heretofore farmers in other provinces and in the U.S. have reaped the benefit of the fattening qualities of our herds. Meanwhile Alberta farmers have piled up huge surpluses of coarse grains and forages.

The Lethbridge and Lacaniche operations have demonstrated the practicality of a scheme through which the agricultural wealth of this province can be greatly increased.

Inspectorate Teachers Successful Convention

The seventeenth annual convention of the Oids Inspectorate held at the Knox United Church, Didsbury, October 6th and 7th, was attended by 112 teachers and a number of interested parents and visitors.

The convention was called to order at 10 a.m. Thursday, by the president, C. R. Ford, of Didsbury, presiding. Following the singing of "O Canada," the invocation was given by the Rev. A. J. Mitchell, of Didsbury. The president's address was followed by Mayor H. W. Chambers, who welcomed the teachers and visitors with a few well-chosen words. Dr. J. L. Clarke, representing the Didsbury School Board, spoke on the duties of a teacher in regards to the formation of child-character, based on the amount of time the child is at school, church and home. An interesting address on the work of the A.T.A. was given by M. W. Brock, president of the provincial organization.

In the afternoon the convention assembled at the Public School, where Miss Mary Edmondson, of Carstairs gave an excellent demonstration of a rural school in operation, which was followed with a discussion by the rural teachers.

In the evening the teachers were tendered a bounteous banquet, the Ladies Aid of Knox United Church catering. Musical selections were given by: Miss Mildred Lovagood, violin; Mrs. Mae Studer Campbell, Cello; Miss Dorothy Chrystal, of Carstairs, vocal, and Misses E. Liesemer and M. Edmondson, pianists. Rev. F. W. Pattison, of the First Baptist Church, Calgary, gave an inspirational lecture on "Faith in the Pupil, Hope for the Pupil and Love of the Pupil."

The program on Friday morning consisted of a talk on methods of teaching History to Grades VII and VIII, by President C. R. Ford; a paper on "Co-Relation of Citizenship and Discipline," by N. Bowles, of Didsbury; a very excellent address on the "Teaching of Art in the Rural School," by A. E. Hutton, of the Calgary Normal School.

During the afternoon Mr. Hutton gave another paper on the "Teaching of Penmanship." Mr. Hutton also answered numerous questions arising out of his papers on Art and Penmanship. The topics, Primary Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, Hygiene and Timetable were all briefly discussed.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Trust funds of the University of Alberta, amounting to $704,650 have been found to be fully in order by a special audit completed this month by the provincial auditor, says Dr. E. C. Wallace, the president of the institution.

Continuing to supply practically all of the automobiles for her own use, Canada, in August imported only 86 cars of all types, 55 of these cars being of the low-price class and ranging in value $1,200 down, while 57 came from the U.S. One car came from the United Kingdom. In the same month Canada imported only 17 motor trucks from the U.S. and 2 from Great Britain.

A tree-planting policy for Alberta which will be operated at first on a comparatively small scale, has been definitely decided upon by the Govt., according to an announcement by Hon. R. G. Reid, Minister of Lands and Mines for the Province. The system will come into effect next spring and provides for free distribution of young white spruce trees to farmers throughout the parklands belt of the province, and who are making an effort to preserve the natural wood bluffs on the farms.

Sir Ronald Ross, noted authority on tropical diseases, is dead, aged 75. The adventurous whaling industry may be revived to prosperity on the British Columbia coast as a result of a rise in oil prices of 30 per cent.

Rolling an automobile tire before him, Emory Cross took off from Welland, Ont., on a seven-year journey around the world.

Big Fur Shipment

Furs To Value Of Half A Million Arrive From I.L.B. Region

A ton and a half of fur from the northern barren lands, principally from along the west coast of Hudson Bay, passed through The Pas, Man., recently, on the way to the markets of the world. The shipment is valued at roughly half a million dollars. The fur-fox, mink, marten, was caught during the past year by Eskimos, Indians, and white trappers in the sub-Arctic wastes. Only the richest and most choice fur was brought down.

From Chesterfield Inlet and other points it was flown to Churchill by the three Junkers' planes of the Canadian Airways, and then loaded on to the famous muskrat train that plies between the northern port and The Pas, Manitoba.

The fur will go by Canadian National Railways to the Revillon Freres Company in Canada and the Hudson Bay Company in London, England.

A Mark Of Distinction

Ability To Keep Ears Open and Mouth Shut

A man seeking a job advertises in this way in a New York newspaper: "I have just enough brains to keep my mouth shut, my ears open and present a good executive appearance. Do you need a front for your business?"

We suspect the gentleman is not being quite frank with his public. Probably he is a very shrewd, capable person who thinks an air of humility, of self-deprecation, an original line of approach, may achieve the results likely to be denied a more orthodox recital of his good qualities. The fact is, of course, that ability to keep the mouth shut and the ears open is a mark of considerable distinction and a virtue commonly denied to a great many persons. The "front" of "good executive appearance" and nothing to back it up is much more apt to keep his mouth open and his ears shut. If he knows enough to reverse the process he is more than just a front—Ottawa Journal.

A WRAP-AROUND MODEL FOR YOU IF YOU'RE A WEE BIT HEAVY

Still another smart and flattering style for matrons.

And it's cut on the wrap-over lines so becoming and liked. There's a slenderizing bias line at the front and at the back that reduces the hip bulk. The shawl collar is very becoming. And don't you like the shaped sleeve cuff?

So many charming materials can be used for this slim-line model. The original was spun-brown wool crepe with white poplin trim.

It's perfectly stunning in black crepe satin with a canton-faille back. Use the dull back surface for the collar and cuffs.

Style No. 746 is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1/2 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern: 25 cents in stamps or coin (cash is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Veteran Doctor Honored

Kansas People Pay Tribute To Traditions He Represented

When nearly one thousand persons assembled at Mulvany, Kansas, recently to honor the veteran physician who had ushered them into the world, they paid tribute not only to an individual but also to the traditions he represented.

The old-fashioned country physician was one of the heroes of his profession. Scientific names now dignify the shrewd psychology he administered along with his pills and powders. Under conditions that would be considered impossible today, he performed many feats of surgery. No mud was too deep and no bilzard was too blinding to keep him from answering a call to duty. The midnight beat of hoofs along the pike usually meant that he had sacrificed another night's rest in order to relieve some one's suffering.

The old-time country doctor is passing. As with the circuit rider and the colporteur, his type will eventually become extinct. But the recent assemblage in Kansas shows that modern medicine can well afford to be proud of the traditions of courage and duty that thousands of country doctors left behind them.—New York Evening Post.

Altitude Records

Two British Pilots Make Claims To New High Records

British pilots, flying at opposite ends of the Empire, have advanced claims to two new aviation altitude records.

Captain Cyril Unwin claimed a new record for land planes, with a flight to 43,600 feet at Bristol. The official record is 43,145 ft. held by Lieutenant Apollo Conck, United States navy.

At Port Darwin, Australia, an amphibian attached to the British navy's ship, "Albatross," was reported as claiming a new altitude record for that type of ship, with a flight to 23,000 feet.

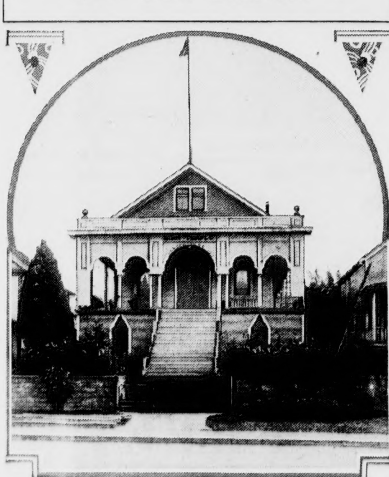

It was also claimed that a balloon released from the "Albatross" (without passengers) reached a height of 70,000 feet, or more than 13 miles. This was set up as a record. There are no official records for passenger balloons. Professor Auguste Piccard rose nearly 11 miles over Italy in his latest stratospheric ascension.

Ceremony Postponed On Account Of Crowds

Final Stone Of Canadian Memorial At Vinny Not Laid

Hanging from the end of a great crane a nine-ton stone is poised over the summit of Canada's memorial at Vinny Ridge while mayors of neighboring towns and other notables are wondering why the ceremony of completion was interrupted.

At the last moment, Brig-Gen. Henry T. Hughes, after conferring with the builders, decided the stone should not be laid. Apologies were tendered to the French guests, who accepted them with graceful gestures and puzzled glances at "the last stone" still hanging far above them. It was explained afterwards an employee of the Canadian authorities had circulated news of the memorial's completion with misplaced zeal, causing a party of eminent visitors to attend. Brig-Gen. Hughes, whose home is in Victoria, B.C., directed the construction work and intended the ceremony of completion to be private.

Actual completion of the memorial is not expected until the latter part of 1934, as sculptured figures of heroic size are yet to be carved on the higher levels. The topmost figure will be 90 feet above the main platform. One figure on the lower level representing the spirit of Canada, is already finished.

Towering 125 feet above the Ridge and containing 6,000 tons of flawless stone, the structure commemorates Canadian valor at Vinny. It has been under construction since 1925.

British Speed King Married

Kaye Don Disclosed Fact Before Sailing For Home

Kaye Don, the 40-year-old dapper British king of speed, disclosed the fact that he was a bridegroom as he sailed for home with his bride. 21-year-old Eileen Martin, daughter of the wealthy and socially prominent Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Martin, of Greenwich, Conn.

She had some "business affairs" to wind up, he explained, but would sail to join him in England, and then they will go to Italy for a honeymoon. Don said the ceremony was performed in Greenwich, but would give no other details.

He and his bride first met in New York a year ago, when he first made his unsuccessful attempt to take the Harnsworth speed-boat trophy from Gar Wood.

Later Miss Martin went to school in Germany and they continued their courtship in Europe. Don said the wedding was all arranged when he arrived for the races this year.

"The prettiest dress at the picnic" everybody said

"I must tell you about going to a big, all-day picnic," writes a woman from Ontario. "I thought I couldn't go because I had nothing fit to wear and couldn't afford a new dress. The day before, the druggist showed me a wonderful new tint powder made by the people who make Diamond Dyes, which I have often used in dyeing dark colors. These new Diamond Tints, he explained, are the same high quality as Diamond Dyes, which faded and was so streaked and ugly I was ashamed to wear it. I decided to try Diamond Tints on it. I loved it green! I got to the SHETTES just dissolved the powder in the rinse water, and the dress came out the loveliest green! I got to the picnic after all and everybody said my dress was the prettiest one there, thanks to these new Diamond Tints."

DEFINITE HELP FOR DWELLERS IN APARTMENTS

Odorless way found to cook fish, cauliflower and cabbage

CANAPAR IS A PRODUCT OF HAMILTON FIRM

Live there a woman, in apartment, duplex or home, who has not at some time or other reluctantly foregone fish, cabbage, and cauliflower, because they give off when being cooked? Or who has not suffered from other people close by who cook their food regardless? Canapar entirely does away with this annoyance. More than that, it actually improves flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar handles the famous French method of simmering and confining food and its flavors to the closed casserole. Canapar comes in large sheets, in a large size package. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the sheet of Canapar and make a bag similar to a pulling bag. If you are steaming them you line your steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and fold back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back.

Boiled or steamed fish is particularly delicious done this way. No fishy odor in the kitchen, no gummy kettle to clean. When roasting meat, line the pan with Canapar. It prevents the fats and juices from burning, and eliminates scorching of the pan afterwards. Canapar saves fuel. You can cook three vegetables simultaneously in the same casserole with it, without intermingling of flavors. And it is very economical. Just rinse the sheet after use, hang it on the towel rack to dry. Use it over and over again.

Lots of women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so silky and satisfactory and does not spread lint. This is particularly good use if you happen to pierce the sheet of Canapar while testing the food during the cooking of it. Canapar is made by the makers of PARASOL the famous heavy wadded paper in the Green box.

Special Offer

Most grocers, druggists and department stores sell Canapar. If you don't, send the coupon direct and we'll give you a new and unique book entitled "Leftovers" containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

"Best?" she said. "Best? Do you realize that I shall have all the remainder of life to—rest in? There'll be nothing else to do."

She released herself very gently from Tormarin's arms and, crossing the room to the window, stood looking out.

"How funny!" she said in a rather high-pitched uncertain voice. "It all looks just the same—although everything in the world is changed."

He came and stood by her side.

"No," he said quietly. "Nothing is changed, dear. Our love is the same as it was before. Always remember that."

"But we can't ever marry now."

"No. We can't marry—now. You'll never have the Tormarin across his belt with, after all!"

She laid her hand swiftly across his lips.

"Oh, it was dreadful!" she said, recalling the terrible scene which she had interrupted. "It—it hardly seemed—you, Blaise."

"For the moment it wasn't. It was the Tormarin devil—the curse of every generation. But I think that Varigny woman could turn a saint into a devil if she tried! She said something about you—and I couldn't stand it."

"Was that it? Then I suppose I shall have to forgive you—with a good little attempt at a smile."

But the half-hearted smile faded again almost instantly.

"Oh, Blaise, what would your temper matter if we could still be together?" she cried passionately. "Nothing in the wide world would matter then!"

Presently she spoke again.

"That it's worse for you than for me. I wish it were more equal."

"How worse for me? I don't understand. Unless—with a brief, sad smile—"You love me less?"

"Ah, you know I don't mean that! But I've only the separation to face. I'm not tied to somebody I don't love. You've got Nesta to consider."

"Nesta?" He gave a short, grim laugh. "Nesta can go back to where she came from."

There was a long silence. At last Jean broke it.

"Blaise, you can't do that—you can't send her away again," she said in quick, low tones. "She's your wife."

"My wife! She seems to have been oblivious of the fact—and to have wished me to be equally oblivious of it—for the last few years."

"Yes, of course she's been wrong, wickedly wrong. But that doesn't alter the fact that she's your responsibility, Blaise. You must take her back."

"Take her back?"—violently. "I'll be shot if I do. She's chosen to live her life without me for the last few years—she can continue to do so."

Jean laid her hand on his arm. She was smiling wistfully.

"Dear, you'll have to take her back," she persisted gently. "Don't you see—she's not wholly to blame? You've admitted that. You've blamed yourself in a large measure for her running away. It's up to you now to put things straight, to—to give her the chance she didn't have before."

"You're discounting these last few years," he returned gravely. "These years in which she has lived a life, allowing me to believe her dead—cheating and deceiving me as no man was ever cheated before. She's cheated me out of my happiness—heavily—'taken you from me!'"

"Yes, I know," Jean's voice quivered, but she steeled it again. "But even in that, she was not solely to blame. You've told me how—how weak she is and easily led away. And she's very young. With chance would Nesta have of asserting her will against her sister's, even had she wished to return to you? She ran away from Staple in a fit of temper and because you had frightened her. After that—you can see for yourself—Madame de Varigny is responsible for everything that has happened since."

Tormarin remained silent. The quiet justice of Jean's summing up of the situation struck at him hard.

She waited a moment, then added quietly:

"You must take her back, Blaise."

He wheeled round on her violently.

"And you?" he exclaimed. "You? Did you ever love me, Jean, that you can talk so coolly about turning me over to another woman?"

She whitened at the bitter accusation in his tones, but she did not flinch.

"It's just because I love you, Blaise, that I want you to do this thing—to do the only thing that is worthy of you. Oh, my dear, my dear—her hands were out to him in sudden helpless pleading—"do you think it's easy for me to ask it?"

The desolate cry pierced him. He caught her in his arms, kissing her fiercely, adoringly.

"Sweetheart! Forgive me! I'm half dead, I think. Believe me, that you forgive me!"

She leaned against him, glad to feel the straining clasp of his arms about her—to rest once more in her place against his heart.

"Dearest of all," she said tremulously, "there is no question of forgiveness between us two. There never will be. We're just—both of us—struggling in the dark, and there's only duty—brokenly—only duty—to hold to."

They stood together in silence, comforted just a little by the mere human touch of each other in this communion of sorrow which had so suddenly come upon them, yet knowing in their hearts that this was the very comfort that must for ever be denied them in the lonely future.

At last Jean raised her head from its resting place and her eyes searched Blaise's face, asking the question she could no longer bring herself to put in words. He met her gaze.

"Jean, is it your wish I do this thing. Take Nesta back?"

He felt a shudder run through her frame. Twice she tried ineffectually to answer. At last she forced her dry lips to utter an affirmative.

"So be it."

His answer sounded in her ears like the knell to the whole meaning of life. The future was settled. Henceforth their lives must lie apart.

"So be it," said Blaise. "She shall come back and take her place again at Staple."

Jean clung to him a little closer.

"Blaise, beloved—I know the harder part will be yours. But mine won't be easy, dear. I shall go to Charnwood with Claire at once—tomorrow—and it won't be easy, when I see in an evening the lights twinkle up at Staple, to know that you two are within, shut in from the world together, while I'm outside—always outside your life and your love."

Just sprinkle Gillett's Lye—full strength—into the water. Off come all stains... without scrubbing. Germs are killed... odors banished. And very important, Gillett's Pure Flake Lye will not eat away enamel, or destroy the finish of sinks and bathtubs.

"You'll never be outside my love," he said swiftly. "That's yours, now and forever. And no other woman shall rob you of one jot or tittle of it. We're she my wife twenty times over. I will bring Nesta back to Staple, and she shall bear my name and live as my wife in the eyes of the world. But my love—that is yours, utterly and entirely. Yours and no other's."

She lifted her face to his, and their lips met in a kiss that was a seal of love and all love's faithfulness. "So is mine yours," she said. "Now and forever, in this world and the next. Oh, Blaise—beloved!"—she clung to him in a passion of love and anguish and straining belief—"Some day, surely, in that other world, God will give us freedom to take our happiness!"

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The Returning Tide

Two months had elapsed since Fate's dividing sword had fallen, for ever separating Jean from the man she loved, and the subsequent march of events, with the many changes involved and the bitter loneliness of soul entailed, had made the two months seem to her more like two years.

PAIN relieved instantly

Aspirin will dispel any pain. No doubt about that. One tablet will prove it. Swallow it. The pain is gone. Relief is as simple as that.

No harmful after-effects from Aspirin. It never depresses the heart, and you need never hesitate to make use of these tablets.

So it is needless to suffer from headache, toothache or neuralgia. The pains of sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism or neuritis can be banished completely in a few moments. Periodical suffering of women can be relieved, and the discomfort of colds can be avoided.

Aspirin tablets have other important uses—all described by the proven directions in each box. Look for that name Aspirin on the box every time you buy these tablets. "Aspirin" is a trade-mark registered in Canada.

She had left Staple for Charnwood on the day following that of Madame de Varigny's visit. It was no longer possible for her to remain under the same roof with Blaise, where the enforced strain of meeting each other daily, and of endeavouring to behave as though nothing more than mere commonplace friendship linked them together, would have been too great for either of them to endure even for the few remaining days which still intervened before the date originally planned for her departure.

Lady Anne, with her usual sympathetic insight, had made no effort to dissuade her, reluctant though she had been to part with her. For herself, the fact that Nesta was alive had come upon her in the light of an almost overwhelming blow. She had never liked the girl, whereas she had grown to look upon Jean as a beloved daughter, and no one had rejoiced more sincerely than his mother when Blaise had confided to her the news of his engagement. At last she would see that grey page in his life turned down for ever and the beginning of a newer, fairer page, illuminated with happiness! And instead, like a tide that had receded far out and then rushes in again with redoubled energy, the whole misery and sorrow of the past had returned upon him, a thousand times accentuated by reason of his love for Jean.

It was with a heavy heart, therefore, that Lady Anne, together with Nick, quitted Staple and established herself for the second time at the Dover House, retiring thither in favour of Nesta who was now installed once more at the Manor. And the thought of how gladly she would have effected the same change, had it been Jean whom Blaise was bringing home as his bride, added but a keener pang to her sorrow.

She watched with anxious eyes the progress of events at Staple. At the commencement of the new regime Nesta had appeared genuinely repentant and ashamed of her conduct in the past, and there was something disarming in the little, half-apologetic air with which she had at first assumed her position of chaperone at Staple, deferring eagerly to Blaise on every point and trying her utmost to please him and conform to his wishes. It held something of the appearance of a forgiven child who tries to atone for former naughtiness by an almost alarming excess of virtue.

She accepted with meek docility Blaise's decision regarding the purely formal relations upon which their married life was henceforth to be based, apparently humbly thankful to be reinstated as his wife on any terms whatsoever that he chose to dictate. "I know I have been bad," she declared, "to run away and leave you like that. I can't," forlornly, "hope for you to love me again."

And Tormarin had replied with unmistakable decision:

"No, you can't hope for that. And I'm glad you understand and recognize the fact. Still, we can try to be good friends, Nesta, at least."

But this tranquil state of things only lasted for a comparatively short time. Very soon, as the novelty and satisfaction of her reinstatement began to wear off, Nesta became more self-assured and, apparently, considerably less frequently visited by spasms of repentance and remorse.

Her butterfly nature could retain no very deep impression for any length of time, and gradually the characteristics of the old Nesta—the pettish, self-willed, pleasure-loving woman of former times—began to reassert themselves.

Blaise tried hard to exercise forbearance with her and to treat her, at least with justice and with a certain meed of leniency. But she did not second his efforts. Instead, she became more exigent and difficult as time passed on.

She was no longer satisfied by the fact that she was once more installed as the mistress of Staple. She demanded a husband who would surround her with all the little observances that only love itself can dictate, whom she could alternately scold and cajole as the fancy took her, but who would always come back to her, after a tiff, ready anew to play the adoring lover.

The Alberta Pacific Grain Company Ltd.

COMMENCING business in the North-West Territories in 1901—four years prior to the formation of the Province of Alberta—The Alberta Pacific Grain Company, and predecessor companies, carries in its records a long line of service to the farmers of Alberta.

ALBERTA Grain Company, Limited, under the able management of John F. McFarland, commenced business in 1901. Total production of wheat in Western Canada in that year had reached less than 65,000,000 bushels. Under Mr. McFarland's policy of fair dealing with all farmers, the growth of the Company kept pace with increasing wheat production in the West. In 1913 Alberta Pacific Grain Company, Limited, was brought into being under guidance of Mr. McFarland, and consisted of an amalgamation of Alberta Grain Company and Alberta Pacific Elevator Company, Limited.

THE "A.P." organization continued to grow. Its elevators followed the railway construction crews into the newly cultivated areas of Alberta and extended its operations into Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

WITH the completion of the building of the Panama Canal the "A.P." became a pioneer in the movement of grain to import markets through the Western route. Terminal elevators, having a capacity of 6,250,000 bushels have been acquired by the Company at the Port of Vancouver.

THE "A.P." system has passed through the financial stress of 1927-28; the war and its aftermath; boom periods and the business upturn of the past three years—a period of years, many of which have been obscure and filled with business uncertainties. In all its three decades of dealings with thousands of farmers and the handling of hundreds of millions of bushels of grain, the Company has never failed in an obligation to any client. Among its customers today are pioneers of Alberta who drew the first bushel of grain they produced in the Province to an "A.P." elevator.

FAIR DEALING with its customers, coupled with competent office and field staff; efficient physical grain handling equipment and desire and ability to return to the grower the most that can be obtained for his grain, has brought the "A.P." system from its humble beginning in 1901 to its present position in the grain trade of Canada.

THE policies of the "A.P." today are and will continue to be, those of the founder of the "A.P." system.

Plenty Of Action In "Shipmates."

Strike up the band, here comes a sailor!
And what a sailor Robert Montgomery turns out to be in his first starring picture, "Shipmates," at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday.

Read, raw seafaring stuff and lots of action are packed into this heroic picture of life at the Pacific battle fleet—the roaring blazes of the broadsides, the spectacle of night-firing, the pursuit of thundering salvoes—all will be here before your bewildered eyes and ears.

Canada's rapid change from an exporter of raw material to an exporter of finished and semi-finished products will be seen in the new musical comedy, "Shipmates," at the Canadian Pacific Theatre, Didsbury, on April 16 and 17. A musical production, "Shipmates," will describe the new marine and maritime life that has effected this change.

With five steamers in service between Port McNeill and the head of the Lake during the spring season, the Canadian Pacific Railway announces that they will now accept shipments of freight and mail from the head of the Lake to Port McNeill, and vice versa, and will accept mail from the head of the Lake to Port McNeill, and vice versa.

Among those who attended the Olds Rural Convention were: Miss Alice Pearson, Miss Snyder, Miss M. Birdsall and Miss Doris Brown. The convention was of great help to rural teachers in many respects. The citizens of Didsbury are to be congratulated on the hospitality that was shown to the teachers during the convention held there last week.

Many farmers are being severely criticised for the present wages being offered in the harvest field, by the harvesters hired for the occasion. Two men were recently hired on a threshing gang and operations were unavoidably held up on account of weather conditions, and they were offered two other jobs with pay in order to put in the time. The first job was plowing, at $2.00 per day, but it was promptly turned down as "too dirty." The second job was that of digging a ditch, but it was "too long." Such able-bodied men make it very difficult for the willing unemployed, and they have a tendency to make the farmer callous towards the temporary hired man. Moreover, they are parasites and many needy men suffer through such as these, making it hard these days to show the milk of human kindness to the genuine worker.

Among deeds of heroism at sea, the rescue of the 27 men of the salvage ship, Endeavour by volunteer seamen of the S.S. Montcalm recently will rank high. It was recorded by Captain Rothwell who steered the Montcalm to make a leap for the lifeboat, and with very heavy seas running, the men under Second Officer Knight put through "no grain a piece of work as one could wish to see" was the comment of J. G. Ross of Stone Jaw, former M.P. for that city, who was a passenger and witnessed the rescue from start to finish. (331)
